Index Description. The VanEck™ Natural Resources Index (TICKER: RVEI) is a rules based index intended to give investors a means of tracking the overall performance of a global universe of listed companies engaged in the production and distribution of commodities and commodity-related products and services. The RVEI is a modified capitalization-weighted, float-adjusted index comprised of publicly traded companies engaged in the production of raw materials in the following sectors: a) agriculture; b) alternatives (water and renewable energy); c) base and industrial metals; d) energy; e) forest products; and f) precious metals. Certain index constituents produce products and services directly related to the production of commodities, but not the commodities themselves.

Inclusion Criteria. All companies contained in the RVEI are “principally” engaged in the production of commodities. For the purposes of RVEI, a principally engaged company must derive 50% or more of its annual revenues from its participation in its applicable industry. Companies contained in the water sector must derive 25%. The RVEI contains stocks selected from a universe of over 1800 companies worldwide that pass the applicable revenue tests. Stocks eligible for inclusion in the RVEI must trade on an approved stock exchange, either as an ordinary ADR or GDR, and have no material restrictions on foreign investment. Stocks must have a minimum market capitalization of USD 500 million and have average daily turnover in excess of USD 1 million per day. Additional inclusion criteria include tests for free float, country, and exchange listing.

Weighting Methodology. The RVEI is divided into six sectors and the aggregate weight of each sector is fixed based on estimates of global production and/or consumption of the relevant commodity. The minimum sector weight is 4%. Sector weights are revised annually. Individual companies are weighted within their sectors based on a capitalization weighting methodology, adjusted for free float, and then modified by the applicable sector weight.

Rebalancing. The RVEI is rebalanced quarterly on the third Friday of the last month of each calendar quarter. Sector weights are adjusted to reflect the annually revised sector weight at each rebalancing. Sector weights are revised annually on the third Friday of December.

Index Data. The RVEI contains 355 constituents representing at least 90% of the total market capitalization of the RVEI universe. The RVEI is calculated in real time by S&P Custom Indexes. Index values are distributed throughout the day at fifteen second intervals in both USD and EUR. The RVEI is calculated on both a price only and total return basis. Daily values are available from January 1, 2003.
